

Noun Clauses

Select the sentence with a noun clause in each group.

1.

- a. Karen needs to speak with the person who runs the store.
- b. Karen needs to speak with whoever runs the store.
- c. Both.
- d. None.

2.

- a. The gas station clerk told us directions from Main Street to the highway.
- b. The gas station clerk told us how we can go from Main Street to the highway.
- c. Both.
- d. None.

3.

- a. The unicorn possessed magical powers, which could heal the sick.
- b. When they are awake, they usually don't travel more than 40 yards per day.
- c. Biobots are changing how we think of robots.
- d. All of the above.

4.

- a. When they are awake, they usually don't travel more than 40 yards per day.
- b. The store that we shopped at yesterday is having a huge sale today.
- c. My friend, whose favorite sport is tennis, recently won a match against a fierce competitor.
- d. None.

5.

- a. The moviegoers forgot what the hero did in the first half of the film.

- b. The moviegoers forgot the things the hero did in the first half of the film.
- c. Both.
- d. None.

6.

- a. I want to know what all the fuss is about.
- b. She will listen to whatever you recommend.
- c. I hope we are going to wherever the source of the river is.
- d. All of the above.

7.

- a. The parachutist's only flaw was the fact that she balked when given the signal to jump.
- b. The parachutist's only flaw was that she balked when given the signal to jump.
- c. Both.
- d. None.

8.

- a. This is a book which changed my life.
- b. The President was angered by the suggestion that he should resign.
- c. The man at the bar would like to buy you a drink.
- d. None.