

Three little pigs

Group 2

The second little pig meets a man with some wood.

“May I have some wood to build a big house?” he asks.

“Sure, little pig,” says the man.

The second little pig builds himself a wooden house. Then he sits down for a nap.

Soon the wolf comes knocking on the door.

“Little pig, little pig, let me come in!” he says.

“Not by the hair of my chinny chin will I open the door and let you come in!” cries the little pig.

“Then I’ll huff and I’ll puff and I’ll blow your house down!” roars the wolf.

So he huffs and he puffs, and the wooden house falls down. The wolf runs inside and gobbles up the second little pig.

The third little pig meets a man carrying bricks.

“May I have some bricks to build a strong house?” he asks.

“Sure, little pig,” says the man. The third little pig builds himself a brick house. He works late into the night.
