The gecko is a very unique and colourful lizard. It can be found in many habitats, usually in warm climates. The gecko is an omnivore. It likes to feed on fruits and insects.

The gecko makes noises such as chirping, barking and clicking when it feels threatened or to attract its mate. Besides that, its tail has special features that help it to balance its weight as they climb branches and to store fat. The tail also helps it to camouflage itself. If a predator attacks, the gecko will shed off its tail.

Most geckos are nocturnal, which means they are active at night. A female gecko lays its eggs in leaves and barks. One interesting fact is that most geckos do not have moveable eyelids. They keep their eyelids clean by licking it with their tongue.

My parents want to stay at home and do some jobs in the house, so I'm not going to go away. Boring! I've got some plans, though. I'm going to do a tennis course with a friend. And some of my friends are going to stay at my house one weekend and we're going to sleep in my new tent in the garden. I can't wait!

Martin

I'm going to spend a week in Paris with my family in July. I'm so excited! We're going to go by train. I bought a guidebook last week and Paris looks really cool, but very expensive. We're going to climb the Eiffel Tower. It's really tall: 324 metres!

Ciara

I'm going to stay with my cousins in Cornwall. They've got a huge house near the beach. I love swimming, so I'm going to swim in the sea every day and I'm also going to learn to surf. I hope the water isn't cold!
