

Hanna has just come back from a music event and wrote an email to her friend to share her experience at the event. Read her email and complete the notes below.

Hi Lucy

How's it going for you? I've completed all of my examinations and am currently very at ease. My school hosted a great event the previous weekend. We enjoyed a fantastic music party. Since it was one of our school's greatest events, I went with all of my classmates. In the schoolyard, a sizable stage had been erected, and there were food stands all around it. And guess who showed up to play at our music festival? The Son Tung MTP is our hero! When he was performing, my friends and I watched and sung along to all of his hit songs. There were further appearances by well-known pop musicians. We had a wonderful experience. We enjoyed some tasty burgers and hot French fries. To stay cool, we also drank a lot of sparkling water. I wished you could have traveled with us.

Tell me how you're doing, please.

Love,

Hanna
