I won't worry	Provided you call me in advance,  Students may leave the exam early  Suppose we offered you more money,  Supposing they don't arrive on time,  You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  what will you do?  Whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  So long as you're home on time.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.		the phras	es in order to for	m comp	lete sentenc	es.
Students may leave the exam early  Suppose we offered you more money,  You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  What will you do?  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  So long as you're home on time.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	Students may leave the exam early  Suppose we offered you more money,  Supposing they don't arrive on time,  You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  What will you do?  Whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  I'll the letter of the sentences.  I'll pick you up.  They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  I'm you agree or not.  I'm you do?  Whether you agree or not.  I'm you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  Would you agree to stay?  I'm you agree or not.	ı) Iwo	n't worry
Suppose we offered you more money,  Supposing they don't arrive on time,  You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  what will you do?  whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	Suppose we offered you more money,  Supposing they don't arrive on time,  You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  What will you do?  Whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	) Prov	ided you	call me in advar	nce,
You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  what will you do?  whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  so long as they have completed each section of the paper.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possibilities at the same time.	Supposing they don't arrive on time, You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  what will you do?  whether you agree or not.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  s long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	) Stud	lents may	leave the exam	early
You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  what will you do?  whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  so long as they have completed each section of the paper.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	You'll have to lend me your laptop.  I'm going to sell the car,  therwise, I won't be able to finish y assignment.  What will you do?  Whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	) Supp	oose we o	ffered you more	money, therwise, I won't be able to finish y assignment.  What will you do?  Whether you agree or not.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  Is long as you're home on time.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	therwise, I won't be able to finish y assignment.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  So long as you're home on time.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	) Supp	oosing the	y don't arrive or	n time, therwise, I won't be able to finish by assignment.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	therwise, I won't be able to finish y assignment.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used so alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	You	'll have to	lend me your la	ptop.
therwise, I won't be able to finish by assignment.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	therwise, I won't be able to finish y assignment.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used so alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	) I'm (	going to se	ell the car, therwise, I won't be able to finish y assignment.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used so alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	therwise, I won't be able to finish y assignment.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used so alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.
y assignment.  I'll pick you up.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used so alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  So long as they have completed each section of the paper.  Would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	thonuis	e Lwon't k	ne able to finish	what	will you do?
each section of the paper.  so long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	each section of the paper.  s long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.			be able to this it			whether you agree or	not.
each section of the paper.  Its long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	each section of the paper.  s long as you're home on time.  would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.				 	1205 - 75	0 0 0
would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.		I'll pick y	/ou up.
would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	would you agree to stay?  Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.
Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	Complete some uses for the previous sentences.  Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	as long	as you're h	ome on time.		would you a	aree to stay?
Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.				L
Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	Write the letter of the sentences.  a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	Con	anloto con	no usos for the n	rovious s	ontoncos
a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT .  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	a) This conditional is used as an alternative to IF NOT.  b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.					emences.
b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	b) They are used s alternatives in first conditional sentences.  c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.
c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	c) They are used to imagine two possible and unlikely conditions.  d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	С	) This con	ditional is used o	us an alte	ernative to IF	NOT.
d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.	d) It is used to refer to two possibilities at the same time.  e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	b	) They are	e used s alternat	ives in firs	st conditiona	al sentences.
	e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.	C	) They are	used to imagin	ie two po	ossible and u	nlikely conditions.
e) It is used to emphasize that one action occurs before another.			I) It is usec	to refer to two	possibiliti	es at the san	ne time.
		C

3.	Rewrite the sentences using alternatives to IF (otherwise, provided, so long as, as long as, whether or not, suppose and supposing)
a)	Make sure you fill out this form. If not, you won't get paid.
b)	If you agree or not, I'm not going to talk to Karl again.
c)	If we watch our expenses, we'll be able to save money.
d)	Will you be OK if they go on vacation without you?
e)	If you found a wallet on the street, would you keep it or give it to the police?
f)	You could leave the table if you eat up all the vegetables.
00	,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,,

in a constant of the constant