Live and Play Together

Aya Sirya is 17 years old and she has been on the Hapoel Girls Basketball Team at Leo Baeck (Haifa) for six years. She feels the team is like a big family. Aya is a Muslim¹, and she likes to tell her friends on the team about Ramadan. She says that her family invites many people to their home for this holiday. They always have a special meal together in the evening. Aya believes that kids from different cultures² should play together. "It's more than learning about basketball," she says. "It's learning to live with each other³."
