Reading comprehension: Find the word in the text below and answer true or false questions.

This word means 'bad for the environment'
This word means when we get 'to where we need to be'.
This word is a vehicle that travels on a track and stops at a station.
This word means 'people who use the train'

We can walk or ride a bicycle to go some places. If we do so, the cost of travelling will be none, but instead, we might get very tired or take very long to get to our destination. If we walk or cycle, we only use our legs as a mean of transportation, and we don't pollute or damage the environment at all.

We can also travel by car, motorbike or bus on land. If we do so, we can travel longer distances at a quicker speed than walking or cycling, but we will pollute more, since these vehicles need to use gasoline to work.

Travelling by train is another means of transportation which is ideal for long distances on land within the same country or between countries which are connected by land. Trains stop at different stations at specific times. When a train arrives at a station, the train driver allows passengers to board the train or get off of it by opening the train doors.
