GIFT GIVING

All over the world, people give gifts. But they give different things in different ways.

In Japan, people often give fruit as a gift. Fruits are very expensive in Japan, so they are precious.

In the United States and Canada, a man often gives his girlfriend flowers on Valentine's Day (February 14). He sometimes gives her chocolate too.

In Korea, older people give new money to children on New Year's Day. They give it to them for good luck.

In Peru, a man gives flowers to his girlfriend. But he doesn't give her yellow flowers. They mean the relationship is finished.
