How to train your new puppy

There are two main types of training: behavioural and obedience. Behavioural training should do on a one-to-one basis. This type of training uses to correct any bad habits your dog may have developed, such as climbing on furniture. Obedience training should do often but only for short periods of time. It is best to train your dog just before meals so his meal associates with a reward for the training.

It is important to keep your puppy safe from danger. Many young puppies injure because their owners don't realise how curious they can be. One way to protect your puppy is by giving him a special house. The house can make of any suitable material but it must be big enough for the puppy to move around comfortably. It can use for house-training your puppy or to protect him from very young children.

You should never try to win your puppy's affection by allowing him to do what he likes. If your puppy rewards with a cuddle and a pat when he jumps on the furniture, then he will continue to do this. To correct jumping, first your puppy's feet should place firmly back on the floor. Then the puppy gives a treat when he is on the floor. It is important to make sure that other people know they cannot pet him or reward him if he jumps up.
