

Reading comprehension activity

I. Read the following text relate to the citizenship and complete it with the fanboys (for, and, nor, but, or, yet, and so where it corresponds Responsibilities of citizenship: You are a citizen of the country you were born in. Usually, citizens live in their country as loyal members of society. In many countries neither the natural born citizens nor the not natural citizens are discriminated to become an important part of the country. When they complete the requirements, they have a good behavior and follow the rules, they can become naturalized citizens.

As a citizen of your country, you have some rights, duties and responsibilities. U.S. law guarantees the rights of all citizens, yet it doesn't matter what U.S. state the citizen lives in, the rights are the same for all citizens. This is because the U.S. Constitution is the supreme law of the land. The rights of citizens of the United States are protected in the Bill of Rights. The Bill of Rights is the first ten amendments to the U.S. Constitution. A citizen has the right to speak freely and the right to religious freedom, so a citizen who is accused of a crime has a right to a fair trial and a trial with a jury.

Every citizen has rights but, citizens also have duties and responsibilities to follow. They have a duty to serve on a jury when asked. People should obey all laws, for they have to behave in a proper way. In wartime, they must serve in the armed forces when required to. They must pay taxes to support the services and programs of the government. Good citizens should vote in elections to support a certain party opinion or to have a disapproval about how the government should be run.

In addition to a national citizenship, people are citizens of a state and a city. They have similar rights and responsibilities in each level of citizenship.
