

John and his friends were going a road trip. They were driving from Angeles to Washington. John had everything planned . He had prepared CDs with their favorite . They would sing along to them the way. He even packed his trunk full their favorite snacks.

John picked up his early in the morning. He showed them map. It was full of dots. "These all the stops we should make," he . John wanted to see the Golden Gate , the Grand Canyon, Old Faithful, and many monuments. "What song should we hear first?" John. All his friends were already asleep. stayed this way the whole trip.