Got a problem?
Write to Ruth!

Dear Ruth,

I've got a problem with my sister, Melanie. She borrows my things all the time, and she never gives them back. And when she gives them back, there's usually something wrong with them. It's getting really annoying.

Last Saturday, she did something terrible. It was my birthday and she bought me a beautiful dress. I'm sure it was quite expensive. The problem was that it was a small. I'm a bit overweight at the moment, so it was too tight for me. Unfortunately, there wasn't a medium in the shop and it was the last one. I wanted to change it but Melanie tried it on and it fit her perfectly. 'This is a great dress for Andy's party,' she said. So I let her borrow it.

Later that day, I saw Melanie's laptop. It was on and she wasn't in her room. She was in the middle of a chat room conversation with her best friend. She was explaining that she knew the dress was too small for me but she bought it anyway. She just needed something to wear to Andy's party!

I haven't spoken to her about it because she gets angry when I look at her laptop. I believe that what she did was really bad. What should I do?
