

THE LION KING. Put boxes in the right order to tell the story.

Scar really hates Mufasa and he makes a plan to kill him. He throws him off a cliff down to where all the animals are stampeding. Mufasa is killed. Scar tells the animals that now, he is king.	Scar is a bad lion. He is Mufasa's brother and he wants to be king. He gets Simba and his friend Nala to go to the Elephants' Graveyard. Three hyenas try to kill them. Mufasa comes to save them.
Finally, Simba goes back. He tells Scar to go away. They fight. In the end, the hyenas kill Scar. Now Simba is king. He and Nala have a baby. This cub will be the next king.	This is a story about a family of lions. Mufasa is the king of all the animals and one day he has a baby son, Simba. One day, Simba will become king.
Mufasa is a good father. He takes Simba and shows him the Pride Lands. He tells him to treat all the animals with respect and he explains about the Circle of Life.	When Simba has grown up, Nala finds him. She tells him Scar is a very bad king. She says there is no food in the Pride Lands. She wants Simba to go back.
After Scar has killed Mufasa, Simba runs away. Timon and Pumbaa find him and they look after him. They are really good friends to Simba.	After Mufasa shows Simba the Pride Lands, he points to a bad place, the elephants' graveyard. He says Simba must not go there.
