It was 40 degrees in the shade. It was very hot Thursday afternoon. A man was wearing a heavy army jacket, a pullover wool cap, jeans and dark sunglasses when he walked into the Ceska Bank at the corner of marianske and havel streets in downtown Uhersky Brod.

The man walked up to the teller and held up a gun for all to see. When the people in the bank saw the gun, they understood that he was a thief. Even after, he said, “Give me all your money, all the money in this bank, right now! to the teller while he was trying to make her frightened. She was so afraid and she did whatever he told her to do. While everyone in the lobby was screaming, the security guard tried to make them silent but everyone was running towards door. Nervously, the young female teller handed the man three big bags which were full of money. After taking the money, he walked out the door. Luckily nobody was injured

After ten minutes later, the police came to the bank but it was so late. At that time, the man was travelling to Las Vegas to spend the money.
