Ben Loiterstein is a very famous man. He's a teacher of English but also a Scrabble world champion. Ben believes that Scrabble belongs in the classroom. He says. "I use Scrabble in class all the time. It is a thrilling experience for the kids. They learn arithmetic, language, dictionary skills and teamwork. Scrabble teaches them everything in a really fun way."

Other teachers seem to agree with him that Scrabble is a way for young people to have fun and learn at the same time. They think teenagers, who seldom open the dictionary, rarely go to the library and usually spend most of their time surfing the Internet, find playing Scrabble interesting. One of them says, "It's the only time I ever see my students fight over a dictionary or ever open one!"

Ben visits classrooms across the country to help other teachers understand that Scrabble is an educational tool, a tool for improving strategic thinking and bringing people together.
