

Name: _____ Score: _____

A. Understanding The Cask of Amontillado Storytelling

In literature, storytelling is a powerful tool that creates immersive worlds, evokes emotions, and explores the human experience.

Directions: Now that you have read the story The Cask of Amontillado, let us test whether you were able to understand the full context of the story. Fill in the blanks with the correct answer based on what you have just read.

The Cask of Amontillado

by Edgar Allan Poe

_____, feeling deeply insulted by _____, seeks revenge but plans to do so without putting himself in danger. He tricks Fortunato, who is known for his love of _____, into believing he has acquired a cask of _____. Montresor leads Fortunato into the family _____, supposedly to taste the _____. As they venture further into the dark and damp catacombs, Montresor _____ Fortunato to a wall and seals him behind a _____ wall, leaving him to _____. The story ends with Montresor revealing that he has kept this secret for _____ years, with no one discovering Fortunato's fate.