- Stacy got to the theatre that there was no one there.

Exercise 2: Write so, such, too or enough in each gap.

My first and last day at work!
I'll never forget my first day at work. It was (1) a disaster that I lost my job! The boss explained what I had to do, but she did it (2) quickly that I didn't understand. I wasn't brave (3) to ask her to repeat it, so I pretended I knew what to do. It wasn't difficult at first – just putting numbers into a computer. Soon though, I was (4) busy that I started making more and more mistakes. I made (5) a lot of mistakes that the other workers noticed. They tried to help me, but it was (6) late. In the end, I just had (7) much to do that I gave up. I sat there and stared at my computer for two hours! The boss came back and she was (8) shocked that she fired me immediately! My first day was also my last!

READING PRACTICE

Exercise 1: Read the passage and fill in each gap with ONE suitable word.

People have always dreamed of living forever, and although we all know this will (1) happen, we still want to live as long as possible. Naturally, there are advantages and disadvantages to a long life.

In the first place, people (2) live longer can spend more time with their family (3) friends. Secondly, people who have busy working lives look forward to a long, relaxing time when they can do the things they have never had time for.

On the (4) hand, there are some serious disadvantages. Firstly, many people become ill and consequently have to (5) time in hospital or become (6) on their children and friends. Many of them (7) this dependence annoying or embarrassing. In addition to this, the older people get, the fewer friends they seem to have (8) old friends die or become ill and it's often difficult to make (9) friends.

To sum (10), it seems that living to a very old age is worthwhile for people who stay healthy.
