

Making Plans with Friends

1. According to the topic seen, in pairs or groups of three, write a WhatsApp conversation in which you plan an activity with friends. Make sure you include verbs for offers (pick up, give a ride, help, meet, teach.), activities with go + ing (go shopping, go dancing, go bowling, etc.) and object pronouns (me, you, him, her, it, them). Then, include information on problems someone had to be on time. Include future with will, to talk about promises, offers and spontaneous decisions.

A Day Out with Friends

Characters:

John Sarah
Mark Emily

Setting: John, Sarah, Mark, and Emily are friends planning a day out together. They're chatting on the messaging app, WhatsApp.

John: Hey everyone! Let's go to the park tomorrow and have a picnic!

Sarah: Sounds great! What time will we meet?

Mark: How about 11 AM?

Emily: Perfect! I'll bring sandwiches and drinks.

John: Awesome! I'll bring a blanket.

Sarah: I'll bring some snacks too.

Mark: Cool! I'll pick up Emily at 10:30.

Emily: Thanks, Mark! That's so kind of you.

Sarah: John, can you give me a ride? My car's in the shop. I can take the bus up to the downtown stop and you can pick me up there.

John: Sure, Sarah. I'll be there at 10:45.

Sarah: Ok, John, but I might be a bit late. There's heavy traffic on my route.

John: No worries, Sara. Take your time.

Emily: Yeah, don't stress. We'll wait for you.

Mark: I hope you don't miss the bus, Sarah!

Sarah: Me too, Mark! But if I do, I'll just take a taxi.

John: Exactly, we'll see you when you get here.

EXAMPLE

The Next Day:

Mark: Hey guys, Emily and I are already at the park. Where are you?

John: Sorry, I'm running late. My alarm didn't go off!

Sarah: I missed the bus, and now I'm waiting for a taxi.

Mark: No problem, we'll wait for you both. Just hurry when you can!

Emily: Yeah, I can't wait to start our picnic!

GRAMMAR: Will/ Won't

1	2	3	4
Promises	Offers	Spontaneous or quick decisions	Predictions (you don't have any evidence)
I will love you forever.	I will help you.	I'll have the nutella waffle.	You will love New York.
I'll take care of the water we use at home.	I will lend you my car.	Someone is knocking at the door. I'll open it.	Colombia will win the next Soccer World Cup.
I won't tell your secret to anyone.	I'll lend you the money.		I think next year will be better.
	I'll pick you up.		