UNIT 4 BAD MANNERS

At the National Music Auditorium in Madrid, Wednesday's performance of Handel's Messiah was interrupted by a cell phone going off in a row close to the stage, during the aria He Was Despised. Conductor William Christie stopped the performance, turned, pointed at the phone owner, and shouted, "Out! You have just ruined one of the most beautiful passages of one of the most beautiful works ever written." The phone owner got up and quickly left the hall.

Good for him. It's time people protested against this kind of behavior. If people can't live without their phones for two hours, ¹they shouldn't go to concerts. We need a new rule for concert halls and theaters: ²you have to leave your phone, or any other device, at the coat check, similar to the way you have to check most bags and backpacks in museums. And the same for the movie theater!

REPLY cassie December 23 5:30 pm

Great idea. I would also add another rule: if you are caught with a mobile device in the auditorium, ³you must immediately pay a fine!

If you ban cell phones from concerts, you'll lose a lot of the audience. There are people who have work phones, and their companies tell them ⁴they must not give their phones to anyone, because of company IT policies.

I think all concert halls ⁵should block cell phone reception. Reception could be available until right before the concert begins, during the intermission, and immediately after it finishes.

REPLY matteo December 24 7:08 am

Blocking reception wouldn't solve the problem. Often when cell phones go off, it's an alarm that the owner has forgotten was on, which ⁶doesn't have to have reception to go off.
