

True or false?

Plants can live without water.

Plants, leaves and stems are different depending on where they live.

There are aquatic and terrestrial plants.

There aren't any plants in the desert.