Ivan's Blog

Friday 3/06
It's been a busy week! I've been learning a lot and I'm excited about learning more.

Thursday 3/05
Today I was really tired. I almost fell asleep on the train coming home. I was too tired to cook dinner and fell asleep in front of the TV. This job is harder than I expected. I feel a bit depressed.

Wednesday 3/04
Today I went to lunch with two of my co-workers. I think I'm starting to make friends here! They told me it's hard work – I'm worried about that, but I'm not going to give up!

Tuesday 3/03
I've been trying very hard to talk to everyone here because it's important to network. I'm not very confident yet, but I have been smiling at everyone and introducing myself. Most people are really friendly. But some are too serious, and they don't say much!

Monday 3/02
The first day in my new job! All morning, I filled out forms for the human resources department. In the afternoon, I met the other people on my team and learned how to use the copier. There's a lot to learn, but I'll try to be patient.
