

MODALS & PARTIES 2

We can use the modals such as "may", "might", "should", "would" and "could" to talk about possibilities in conversations about parties and events.

We could get a caterer.

That might be expensive.

John may be able to cook for us.

We should book a restaurant.

She would like a surprise party

Task One. Choose the correct words.

1. It _____ be a good idea to start planning now.
2. We _____ have a pizza party. Everyone loves pizza.
3. Garden parties are nice but it _____ rain.
4. The boss _____ like a party for his promotion.
5. We _____ throw a party for Jim. He's moving abroad.
6. If you want my opinion, you _____ have the party in a restaurant.
7. My grandmother _____ make her famous apple pie for the party.
8. She doesn't like the sun so a pool party _____ be a good idea.
9. _____ you like me to help with planning the party?
10. Let's get party favors. Everyone _____ love that.
11. Confetti? That _____ be a good idea. It's difficult to clean up.
12. It's Jenny's 12th birthday. She _____ like a slumber party.
13. The neighbors _____ propose a block party. I'm in!
14. My sister thinks a slumber party _____ be a good idea.
15. What's in this present? It _____ be the keys to a new car!

clipart from www.disneyclips.com