Water Rights

Action is urgently needed to ensure that no child in the developing world is denied access to clean water and sanitation. We are an organisation that supports projects that improve quality of life by developing local drinking-water resources, sanitation facilities and hygiene education programmes.

EQUAL CHILDREN

Millions of families across the globe are struggling to feed themselves. Rising prices and growing environmental problems have set the conditions for a widespread food crisis that will threaten the lives of millions of children. We collect food supplies to ship wherever there is need. In addition to that, we collect medical supplies to ensure better health for children.

Planning the future

Our vision is to help children achieve their goals in life. We work with governments, big companies and people who simply want to offer their time and energy to make sure no child is left behind. No child should be denied the opportunity to study and broaden their horizons.

TRADE NOT AID

Our aim is to help people who are living in isolated conditions and in poverty gain access to the outside world in order to sell their products. We believe that this is the only way to improve people's living conditions.

Human Rights

Are you between 10 and 18 years of age and interested in human rights? European Human Action (EHA), the organisation created to protect the freedom of European citizens, is celebrating its three-year anniversary by holding a competition that calls on young people to answer the following question:

'What can we do to improve the protection of human rights in Europe?' Young people from all European member states are invited to answer the question in 200 words or less. All entries should be e-mailed to eha@eha-rights.org with the words 'Essay Competition' in the subject line. They should be submitted no later than 20th November.

INTERNET USERS

BEWARE

We depend on computers for a great many things. You can do your shopping online, chat or make calls to friends and family.

You probably even use the Internet to do your banking and pay bills. But just how careful are you?

Identity theft is nothing new. Before the Internet, criminals stole ID cards and pretended to be other people in order to withdraw money from bank accounts, take out bank loans or commit other crimes. So, (1) _____, they reported it to the police. Nowadays, however, cybercriminals can steal your identity online without warning. You may be a victim (2) _____!

Phishing is one of the oldest methods used in cybercrime. It often involves emails (3) _____, or offer you money and prizes. Some of these emails ask you to respond and confirm your personal information; others include a link to a website (4) _____. As a result, the sender can read your emails, your bank account information and credit card numbers and observe your online activities. Suddenly, they know everything about you.

Internet scam analysts and statisticians say (5) _____ for credit card scams. And it's easier than a lot of people realise: personal information—names, addresses and dates of birth—can be obtained on public record sites, and any information you put online, (6) _____, can be used against you.

So, be aware of what information you have online and who might be watching!

- A. and not even be aware of what has happened
- B. that identity theft is most commonly used
- C. when they did that
- D. which secretly downloads a program onto your computer
- E. it has a hidden camera
- F. no matter how unimportant it may seem
- G. as soon as someone lost their purse or wallet
- H. that warn you about problems with your bank account
