On Screen B2+ Module 7 Idioms

1) The home team has lost their last three game sevens, so I bet they're hoping that the same things don't happen over and over again tonight.

2) Her interest in photography happened so long ago that it's not important anymore now that she's started doing yoga.

3) He quit his job, signed the record deal, and everything after it is widely known.

4) This battle will be remembered for a long time as one of our most important victories.

5) Today's launch of the private spacecraft is a very important event.

6) I asked him about his job and he gave me some made-up story about being so rich he didn't need to work.

7) What I do not reveal to the public is none of your business!

8) Somehow, everyone knew that Alicia had quit school except for me—I did not know the truth about it.

9) However, the truth will be made known, even though the most elaborate camouflage, sooner or later.

LIVEWORKSHEETS