

Travel the World

I just want to travel; I just want to travel.

I just want to travel; I just want to travel.

Standing at the check-in,

Passport in hand,

I'm holding my plane ticket

To a new land

. My suitcase is checked in and I'm heading for the gate.

I look at the time 'cause I don't want to be late.

At the airport, every gate's a portal to a new place,

From the beaches in Thailand to Nepal, Mount Everest.

In Paris, I see the city shine from the Eiffel Tower.

In England, I run through fields of lavender flowers.

Refrain: I just want to see something bigger than me

I just want to travel the world.

I just want to meet someone different from me.

I just want to travel the world.

To see and smell and taste something completely new.

I just want to travel the world.

I just want to see it with someone like you.

I just want to travel the world. The world, the world.

Travel the world.

I want to see the capitals: London, Berlin, Jerusalem.

To see the Pyramids in Cairo or in the Yucatan.

Look down into the canyons.

Look up to see the Northern Lights.

They're the most beautiful colours in the Arctic sky.

Refrain ... In China, I will walk the length of the Great Wall if I can.

To see the Tokyo lights in Japan is my plan.

I want to visit the Seven Wonders of the World.

I'll add more to that list; there's so much more to learn!
