Scientific Method

Directions. Connect the concept with its definition.

Ask a question

State your hypothesis

Identify and control variables

Test your hypothesis

Collect and record your data

Interprete your data

State your conclusion

It is a possible answer to your question.

These are notes, pictures, charts, or graphs.

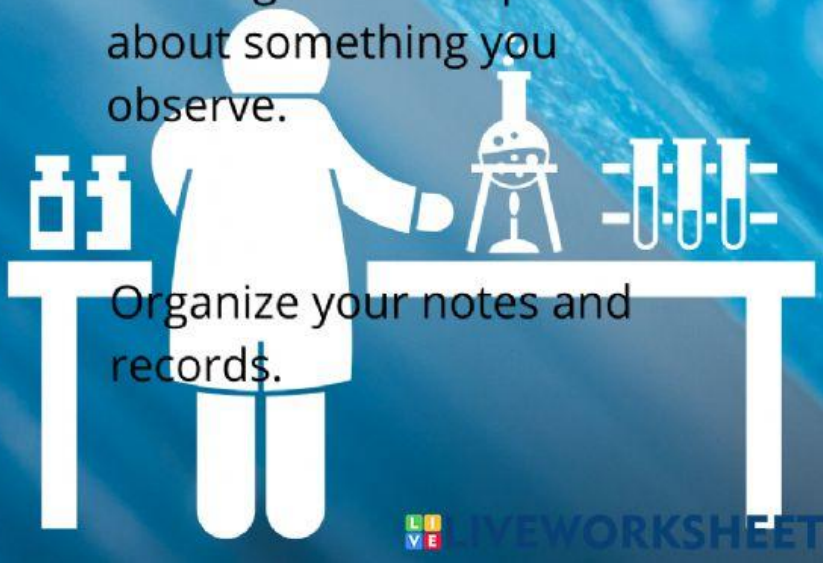
You do the test many times

Things in an experiment that can change.

It is a decision you make based on your data.

You might have a question about something you observe.

Organize your notes and records.



LIVEWORKSHEETS