Fill in a story

Once upon a time in a busy town, Sarah needed to visit her friend on the other side of the town. She thought about the best _____ to use. First, she considered taking the _____, but remembered it was Sunday and the trains were not running. Then, she thought about riding her _____, but it looked like it might rain. "Maybe I should just drive my _____ she realized she had lent it to her brother. As she walked down the street, she saw a _____ driving past her. "Too fast for me!" she chuckled. Just then, a _____ pulled up, and the driver asked, "Need a ride?" Sarah shook her head, "No thank you, I'm looking for something different." She walked and saw a _____ stop at the bus station. "That could work," she thought, but she wanted to try something new. She walked to the river and saw a _____. "That looks fun, but I don't have time" Looking up, she saw a _____ flying above. "Now that would be an adventure," she laughed, knowing it was not an option for her trip.

Finally, she heard a loud noise above. It was an _____ flying high in the sky. "One day, I'll travel far away on one of those," she dreamed.

In the end, Sarah decided to walk to her friend's house.
