Our travels

HOME NEW POSTS

This is my second year of travelling with my family now. When my parents first talked about selling our home and going travelling, I was very ¹ with them and said I wasn't sure about it. At fifteen years old you just want to go to school and ² with your friends, right? But in fact it's great. We're now part of a different ³ of families who choose to travel around, and I'm definitely pleased that I don't have the ⁴ of school exams anymore! We meet lots of different people – today we gave two students from Sweden a ⁵ , and they were really fun to chat to. Tomorrow we're going into the mountains. It's really cold there, and we want to see what a river looks like when it ⁶ – it sounds cool to me!

When home

is the open road

Ella doesn't live in a house or flat. Her home is on the road, travelling around America with her parents and her brother, Scott. Her parents decided to sell their home and buy a big RV (mobile home), because they wanted to see different parts of the country and experience a different way of life. Her dad has his own internet business, so he works from an office in the RV. We asked Ella what life is like when your home is always on the move.

A ?

My favourite thing is that every day is different! We don't always travel somewhere new, but I never know when I wake up what's going to happen. Life is never boring! The other great thing is meeting people. When you live in a house or flat, you spend a lot of time inside. We're always outside, so we meet some really interesting people. The most difficult thing is that I can't be messy. I've got my own room in the RV, but it's really small, so I can't leave things lying around – that's annoying!

B ?

A lot of people ask me if I have all the usual arguments with my parents – about staying up late, doing jobs around the home, that kind of thing. But when you live together in such a small space it just isn't possible to argue – it's too horrible for everyone! In fact, things are much better now. Because we spend a lot of time together, I talk to my parents and my brother, Scott, a lot more. We're more like friends than family now.

C ?

That was the biggest problem for me at the start. Saying goodbye was definitely difficult. But we're online and I have my phone of course, so it isn't difficult to keep in contact with them and stay up to date with what's going on in their lives. And I'm never lonely. Every time we go to a new place I make new friends. So I've got a lot more friends now than I had before. But I guess I do miss just hanging out with people, watching a movie or chatting.

D ?

My mom is my teacher now, but I help her plan what I'm going to study each month. I do a lot of studying online. I also have an online teacher for maths. That's my worst subject, and mom isn't brilliant at it either! It isn't easy to study on your own, but the advantage is I can choose what to learn about. I love learning about animals, so we try to get to places where I can see wild animals – that's really useful. I think I want to study biology at college when I'm older.

7 Complete the sentences with words from Ex 6.

- The big of travelling is that you see lots of new places.
- My sister is really – she leaves her things all over the house!
- My best friend moved to a new city and I really seeing her every day.
- I sometimes feel if I'm on my own in the flat.
- My brother likes doing all the things that teenagers do, like riding his skateboard.
- I can't eat this soup – it's!
