AT THE SECURITY CHECK

Look at the pictures and come up with commands for them.

Put your bag on the conveyor belt

Please step through the scanner

Give me your passport and your boarding pass, please.

Take out your water bottle.

Remove you shoes and your belt, please.

Stretch out your arms.

Empty your pockets.

Please, step to the side.

Read the sentences and elicit the meaning of the underlined words from the context. Match the words with their meanings.

Sentences	Meanings
a) The police officer told me to stretch out my arms.	1) To move to the next thing or stage
b) Go on for another 50 meters until you come to the traffic light.	2) A substance, such as water, that can be poured easily
c) It got so hot that he removed his tie and jacket.	3) To take something or someone away from somewhere, or off something
d) She quickly emptied her glass.	4) To make your body or your arms straight so that they are as long as possible
e) How much liquid do you think this bottle contain?	5) To remove everything from inside something
f) Oh! You stepped on my foot!	6) To move by lifting your foot and putting it down in a different place
g) I think we should head back home before it gets dark.	7) To go in a particular direction

LIVEWORKSHEETS

You're going to listen to a dialogue between a passenger and an airport security agent. Do you remember what the regular procedure is at the security check? What does the agent can ask you to do?

- Read the dialogue. Predict the missing information. Watch the video and check yourself.

Security agent: Passport and boarding pass, please
Passenger: Here you go
Security agent: Thank you. You can ____ ____ through.

Security officer: Sir, you need to _____ your coat. And your belt.
Passenger: My coat? And by belt?
Security officer: Yes. And your shoes.
Passenger: My shoes too?
Security officer: Yes, please. You can place them in this bin. You need to _____ your pockets and put those items in the bin as well. Do you have any _____ in your bag?
Passenger: I do. I have a water bottle and some hand lotion.
Security officer: You'll need to take those out. The water bottle is too big. You can either drink it right now or throw it away.
Passenger: I'll just throw it out.
Security officer: The hand lotion is fine because it is in a small container. You need to put it in a plastic bag, though.
Passenger: Do you have a bag that I could use? I've never flown before, and I didn't bring one.
Security officer: Sure. We have extra bags right here.
Passenger: Thank you.
Security officer: Do you have a laptop in your bag?
Passenger: I do.

Security officer: I'll need you to remove it as well and place it in a bin.
Passenger: Okay
Security officer: Please put your bag on the _____ _____. Now please _____ _____ _____ _____ Passenger: What's wrong?
Security officer: Please _____ _____ _____ _____. _____ _____ your arms. I'm going to scan your body. Are you wearing any jewelry?
Passenger: Oh yeah, I think my necklace _____ _____ _____. Sorry about that. We Alright. _____ _____.
Security officer: You can pick up your items from the scanner, and you can _____ to your gate.
Security officer: _____ ___ _____ _____!
Passenger: Thanks.

LIVEWORKSHEETS