

Future Predictions Diary!

Write a diary entry about your life in 10 years.

Use "will" for predictions (e.g., "I will travel the world") and "be going to" for planned actions (e.g., "I am going to study medicine").

My Diary Entry

July 25, 2024

In 10 years, I will be living in a big city and working as a successful architect. I am going to design houses and big buildings. My company will be known for its sustainable designs. I am going to travel to different countries to learn about new architectural styles and ideas. I will also have a small house by the beach where I can relax after busy weeks.
