

The Black Cat by Edgar Allan Poe. (II)

Fill in the blanks with the words from the box.

After the narrator killed the cat, his house _____ in a fire. However, one wall wasn't destroyed in the fire. In it, people could see the _____ of cat hanging by his _____.

One day, the narrator found another _____ in a _____.
He brought him home.

This new cat was black but he had a _____ shape on his chest. The narrator's wife _____ the animal as it looked a lot like _____. He had only one _____, too.

As time went by, the narrator started _____ the cat.

One day, the narrator found out that the shape that the cat had on his chest was of the _____.

Gallows – burned – hating – shape – eye – neck – Pluto – cat – drinking-house – loved – white