The Trip to Paris

Instructions: Listen and fill out the missing words.

Emma: Hi Jack! Are you excited about our trip to Paris?

Jack: Hi Emma! Yes, I can't wait. When go?

Emma: How about the end of September? The weather nice.

Jack: I don't think it is a good idea. Fashion week is something I want to experience. Maybe we can compromise and go in the middle of the month? We book our flights and hotel soon. Where should we stay?

Emma: Let's stay in the Marais district. It has many nice cafes and shops.

Jack: Great idea! I for hotels there. Should we book a hotel or an Airbnb?

Emma: A hotel might be easier. We can find one with breakfast included.

Jack: Good plan. I for hotels with good reviews. What about our visa?

Emma: Yes, we need a visa for France. We soon.

Jack: I the visa requirements online. We need to fill out the application and book an appointment at the embassy.

Emma: And we need to bring our passport, photos, and travel insurance.

Jack: Right, and we need to show our flight and hotel bookings too.

Emma: Okay, I the flights. You book the hotel. Then we can apply for the visa.

Jack: Sounds like a plan. What places do you want to see in Paris?

Emma: I want to see the Eiffel Tower, the Louvre, and Notre Dame. And we by the Seine River.

Jack: Definitely not, I the Louvre this time and focus on smaller museums.

Emma: Oh, come on!! The Mona Lisa is a must-see!

Instructions: Listen and fill out the missing words.

Jack: Fine, fine. We can visit the Louvre, but just for a short time. Let's make a list of other museums to check out. And we need to try French food. I want to eat croissants and macarons.

Emma: All right! Maybe, we can take a cooking class to learn how to make French pastries.

Jack: That would be fun! I a good class for us.

Emma: Great. We should also have time to just walk around and explore.

Jack: I agree. Paris is a beautiful city. We many interesting places.

Emma: I can't wait! I a list of places to visit and things to do.

Jack: Hmm, I see your points but I'm not sure I agree with you on this. In my opinion, we it together so that we can exchange our ideas. Let's finish our plans this weekend and start booking everything.

Emma: Sounds good! This trip amazing.

Jack: Yes! Paris, here we come!
