This is a geography class in Bangladesh. It isn't a traditional primary school – these students are playing on a 'boat school'. It's a great idea because transport can be a big problem here when there's a lot of rain. The boat isn't moving at the moment, but at the start and the end of the day, it goes along the river to the students' villages.

In 'Ket Noi Gio Thu 6', a teacher will teach English, but she is not at her school. Her students are staying at home and learning lessons on television. In Ho Chi Minh City, Vietnam, students can have such lessons on the channel of HTV Key. It is another learning way for them – digital learning.
