

Read the phrases and write out the phrasal verbs

You forgot Mallory came by to visit

Can't a doting daughter drop by unannounced to get bonkers with her beautiful mother?

Why is everybody asking me that? Maybe I go out on Tuesdays.

I'm sorry, you guys are blocking a fire exit and my manager, Heather, is gonna freak out.

Read the conversations and put in to or for

That's where the rest of us discovered you don't need a man to define yourself.

You're feeling guilty about not giving me a job.

- Do you know what you need? A boyfriend. Well, I choose not to be murdered by a stranger that I met online.
- I send that entire sentence back to you.

It must have taken a lot of work for him to find me. There has to be someone out there to help you.

That was a big moment. I'm so glad my car was there to help you.

The long answer I'll hash out when I write a strongly-worded letter to myself.

She takes Boniva for osteoporosis, Celebrex for arthritis, generic Diazepam, Lunesta, or Ambien. I don't know what, plus half a Sonata, help her fall asleep at night.

Read the phrase and order the words in the final sentence

Mom, I know you. You're happy when someone's taking care of you care of someone you to have and