

A vertical strip of 24 small thumbnail images, each representing a different project. The thumbnails show various web designs, logos, and documents. The first thumbnail is labeled "Project 247" and "HTML". The thumbnails are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with each image showing a different aspect of a web project, such as a homepage, a contact page, a portfolio, or a specific design element. The images are small and low-resolution, typical of a thumbnail strip. The overall theme of the thumbnails is web design and development.
