Stranded on the Island: An Unforgettable Adventure

Once upon a time with a team, I went to an island. There were some friends with me in the team. With a long journey, we reached the island. It was Tuesday 12:00 noon. We decided that at night we would leave the island. We were divided into some groups. I was lucky with my best friends in my group.

Our mission was to collect the photographs of the footprints of the animals. We were asked to reach the seaport by 9:00 p.m. We clicked many photographs. After some times we noticed that we were far away from the seaport and it was 8:45 p.m. We didn't know where we had to go.

We didn't have any map of the area or any compass to get directions. It was now 9:00 p.m. and all the other team went back on the ship. Then we decided to sleep under a tree on the island itself. Next day, we did not see any ship on the shore so that we could ask them for help. After some time, we saw an elephant and we were scared of seeing the elephant. One of our teammates had the matchbox.

We searched for a piece of wood and we got it easily. Then we lit one side of the wood and tried to scare the elephant by showing the burning wood as animals are afraid of fire. We were successful, as the elephant was scared of the fire and went away, then we took a deep and relaxing breath. Now it was 11:00 a.m. and we all friends were hungry. All of us had a lunch box. But we ate the lunch of one of the friends and kept rest for the future because we did not know for how long we would have to stay there.

After we had our lunch, we all were very tired and were also feeling sleepy. So, we decided to take some rest. For this we made a Kaccha house made up of leaves and wood. There we slept. We had to spend the night there. We had to repeat the same routine for next two days.

Then, next early morning while we were sleeping we heard the horn of a ship coming towards the island. We asked for help. But we were unlucky as the ship captain could not hear our screaming. We were sad.

But God was kind to us. In the evening another ship was coming this time the captain heard our screaming and also saw the signal of burning wood and was ready to help us. We got on the ship and were dropped on another shore. From there, we reached our homes and were very happy.

Our trip was very memorable, adventurous and full of joy and fun. The unfortunate trip with my Besties was awesome...
