EVERYDAY ENGLISH

CONVERSATION STARTERS
How's your week going? What's new with you? Hey buddy What kind of a week have you got? How's your week been?
DRAMATIC EXPRESSIONS
I cannot believe it That is mental Stop That's insane
PHRASAL VERBS
Catch up Wash up Look at Sleep on it Log in/out Clean up Watch out for Hold on
GEN Z PHRASES
You've got this Literally I was like... feel like...
MISCELLANEOUS
How [adjective] 100% You know what I'm pretty sure Well done you

LIVEWORKSHEETS

EVERYDAY ENGLISH

CONVERSATION STARTERS
	Friendly, gender-neutral term for addressing someone close.
	Asking about someone's current week, typically mid-week.
	General inquiry about recent changes in someone's life.
	Inquiring about the plans or activities for the upcoming week.
	General inquiry about recent changes in someone's life.
DRAMATIC EXPRESSIONS
	Used to describe something unbelievable or shocking.
	Similar to "mental," used for surprising or extreme situations.
	Can express disbelief or emphasize something funny.
	A dramatic way to express shock or disbelief.
PHRASAL VERBS
	Casual way to ask someone to wait briefly.
	Refers specifically to cleaning dishes.
	Means to tidy or organize a space.
	To postpone a decision until later, often until the next day.
	To access or exit an online account.
	To direct one's attention to something visually.
	A cautionary phrase to be aware of something.
	To reconnect or update someone on news.
GEN Z PHRASES
	Often used for emphasis, even if not technically correct.
	Common way to recount dialogue or reactions in a casual manner.
	Used to express thoughts or feelings casually.
	Encouragement to boost someone's confidence.
MISCELLANEOUS
	Strong affirmation; means definitely or absolutely.
	Indicates moderate confidence about something.
	A way to express amazement or opinion about something.
	Used to preface a personal opinion or revelation.
	A congratulatory phrase for someone's achievement.

LIVEWORKSHEETS