

I'm sorry, but...

FUNCTIONAL LANGUAGE

Refusing invitations and responding to a refusal

Choose the correct response (A or B) to each invitation or refusal. Then practice the conversations with a partner.

	A	B
1 Do you want to go to a movie Friday night?	Let me know if you change your mind.	I'm sorry. Unfortunately, I have to work.
2 I'm sorry I can't go to your soccer game on Saturday.	I understand.	I'd love to.
3 Do you want to come over for dinner tonight?	But thanks for asking.	I'd love to, but I already have plans.
4 I'd love to go shopping on Saturday, but I have too much to do.	OK. Let me know if your plans change.	I'm sorry. Unfortunately, I can't.

Put the conversations in order. Then practice with your partner. Switch roles.

REAL-WORLD STRATEGY

Softening comments

Soften each comment with “kind of” or “sort of.”

- 1 Unfortunately, I'm busy this weekend.
- 2 I'd love to, but I'm tired.
- 3 I'm sorry, but I think romantic comedies are silly.
- 4 No thanks. I think talk shows are boring.
- 5 I'm sorry, but it's too late.
- 6 That sounds interesting, but I think it's dangerous.
- 7 Unfortunately, I think it will be crowded.
- 8 No thanks. I think going to the movies is expensive.
- 9 I'd like to go to the concert, but I'm broke right now.

Unfortunately, I'm kind of busy this weekend.

Work with a partner. Respond to each invitation with a direct refusal and a softened refusal using “kind of” or “sort of” and your own reason. Then share with the class.

Invitation	Direct refusal	Softened refusal + reason
1 Do you want to study together after class?	No, I can't.	I'd love to, but I'm kind of busy this afternoon. I have a doctor's appointment.
2 Are you free to come over later?
3 Would you like to go see a baseball game together?
4 Do you want to get a bite to eat?
5 I was wondering if you'd like to go skating this weekend?
6 Would you like to see that new horror movie with me?
