

They absorb water and minerals from the soil.

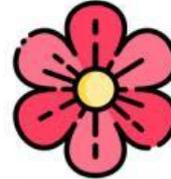

The roots

The stem

The leaves

The flowers

The fruit

They make food for the plant using air, water and sunlight..

The roots

The stem

The leaves

The flowers

The fruit

They attract insects that pollinate them. After that, they can transform into a fruit..

The roots

The stem

The leaves

The flowers

The fruit

It supports the plant and transports water and minerals around it.

The roots

The stem

The leaves

The flowers

The fruit