

PRESENT CONTINUOUS

We use the present continuous to talk about:

A something happening now.

Wait a minute. I'm texting my friend.

I'm not doing anything at the moment.

What are you doing right now?

B temporary situations.

Mr Evans is teaching computer class because Miss Hill is on holiday.

Tom isn't playing football today because he's ill.

What book are you reading in your English class at the moment?

In this photo, I'm sitting next to my best friend.

- We use the: ☺ + (am, is, are) + main verb + -ing.
- We often use the short form be: I'm, you're, he's, she's, etc.
- We often use the present continuous with these time phrases: right now, at the moment, now, today.
- For most verbs, we just add -ing. I
 - Look: I'm looking out of the window.
 - Play: They're playing football.
- Remember the spelling rules for verbs + -ing:

most verbs	add -ing	catch – catching
verbs ending in -e	remove the final -e	take – taking verbs ending in -ie	change -ie to -y	lie – lying verbs ending in one vowel and one consonant	double the final consonant*	hit – hitting

*Exceptions include open – opening, happen – happening, listen – listening where the stress is on the first syllable.
