UNDERSTANDING SIGNPOSTING TO FOLLOW A TALK

To help listeners follow a lecture or talk, speakers often use 'signposting'. This involves words and expressions that tell the listener what the speaker is going to say, for example: saying how many main points there are, giving examples, emphasising a point, summarising what has been said, etc.

16

Listen again to the lecturer talking about people's concerns and write signposting words and expressions from the box in the table. Write the correct function for each expression: sequencing (SE), contrast (C), addition (AD), summarising (SU), topic change (T) or attitude (AT).

clearly earlier to begin with secondly now while that first to summarise what's more last

TIP 16

Signposting can help you know where you are up to with the exam questions because these occur in the same order as the script. If you get lost, signposting words and expressions may help you find your way back to the right question.

	Signposting word/expression	Function
	To begin with , let's look at the environmental concerns.	SE
1	The _____ and possibly most significant environmental concern is ...
2	_____, it is likely that, although countries which produce shale gas ...
3	_____, there are serious pollution problems ...
4	The _____ environmental concern connected with drilling is that of earthquakes.
5	_____ I'd like to turn to the economic concerns.
6	_____ there's clearly an increase in economic activity ...
7	As I mentioned _____, there are a lot of concerns ...
8	_____, a lot more research needs to be done ...
9	So _____, there are significant environmental ...
10	We can see that the future is very uncertain, and _____ is what I'd now like to discuss.
