ABOUT ME
Hi, I'm Olivia Andrews. I'm 12 years old and I'm from Edinburgh in the UK. Welcome to my blog!

My free-time activities

I'm really into sports! I play volleyball and basketball, and I go hiking every weekend. My parents and my sister love hiking too! I'm also crazy about water polo. I'm in the school water polo team this year. I practise three times a week. It's an exciting sport, and it's good exercise too!

In my free time, I also enjoy doing arts and crafts. It's my new hobby! At the moment, I'm making a bracelet for my sister. Next week, I'm planning to make a pencil holder using a jar! Check out photos of my arts and crafts here.

The 'father' of the World Wide Web

Tim Berners-Lee was born in 1955, in London, England. His parents were computer scientists, and he learnt a lot about computers from them. From a young age, he liked learning about how things worked and, later, he decided to study physics at Oxford University. When he graduated, he got a job at CERN, a research centre in Switzerland. At that time, it wasn't easy for scientists in different places to send each other important information.

In 1989, with the help of Robert Cailliau, Tim invented a system to help people send and see documents-the World Wide Web. With this system, it was easy for people to use the Internet from different places in the world to send, receive and find information using their computers.

1. Tim taught his parents a lot about computers.
2. Tim graduated from CERN.
3. Scientists couldn't send each other important information easily before the World Wide Web.
4. Tim Berners-Lee invented a new kind of computer.

Hey Susan,

Guess what! I'm going on a camping trip to Mount Holsten this weekend. I know you've been camping before, so I'm sending you this email just to make sure I haven't forgotten anything. I've already packed some things and now my backpack's almost full. I've put the sleeping bag and the torch in. We're visiting some caves you know, so I think I'll need a torch. Dana has given me her first aid kit, and I've got my dad's whistle. I haven't found my insect repellent yet. I've already asked my brother for his compass, but he hasn't given it to me yet. Bob and Charlotte have got the tent and the fishing gear. I hope I haven't forgotten anything. What do you think?

Love,
Lorna
