How Will Jobs Change in the Future? by Hana

The world of work will change in the future.
For example, we will still need chefs to cook at restaurants, but I don't think waiters will bring food. Robots will bring food instead. Also, I don't think there will be librarians because we won't have books. We will read everything online. There won't be taxi drivers either because there won't be any cars. But we will need pilots for supersonic jets and drivers for high-speed trains, too.

4 Read again and answer.

- 1 Will there be chefs in the future? Yes, there will.
- 2 Will there be waiters in the future?
- 3 Why won't we need librarians?
- 4 What jobs will we need in the future?

5 What do you think? Write about how jobs will change in the future.

How Will Jobs Change in the Future? by

In the future, I think people will
