

Language Hub 1 - Lesson 12.1 - Listening

J: Guys! I'm so sorry I'm late. I needed to finish some things at work.

M: It's (1) Juliet. Why are you working on the weekend?

J: Oh, things are really busy at the moment. It's terrible. I'm at work all day, then I have to leave at (2) to pick up the children. Then in the evenings, I'm always busy with them. Well, actually, I'm usually in the car because I have to take them to their dance classes, or soccer, or (3)

M: I read an article in the Guardian about time management. It had some useful tips.

K: Yeah, I saw that, too.

J: Well, I need some tips. Something has to change. Tomorrow, I'm going to make a long list of everything I need to do.

M: No, don't make long lists!

J: Why not?

M: Because you (4) finish everything. The article said you have to make a list of five things.

J: Only (5)

M: That's right. But I never make lists. What's the point?

K: I like making long (6) because that way I remember everything. But maybe I should try the five-list idea.

J: I make lists, too, but I'm going to try that idea at work next week. My biggest (7) is that I can't say no, so I have too much to do.

M: I'm like that, too. I agreed to work full time this week, but then I'm studying for my (8) in the evening. I need to finish an essay. It's due in on (9)

....., but there just aren't enough hours in the day. I don't know what I'm going to do.

K: Are you going to finish your essay this (10)

M: I think I can find time to plan it tonight, but I'm definitely not going to (11) it. It's difficult to study when I'm tired.

K: You need to understand your (12) When do you work best? I'm definitely a (13) person.

M: Yes, I think I am, too.

J: Maybe you should ask your boss if you can work in the evenings, so you can study in the mornings?

M: That's a great idea! I'm going to see him tomorrow, so I can ask him then.

K: Or maybe you could (14) a day (15)

It's impossible to do everything, so don't worry about it!

M: But you're really (16), Kelly. I'm not! I find it hard to prioritize.

K: Just make a list, then decide which are the most important things.

M: Why make a list when everything is a priority. I can't decide what's most important, so I do nothing!

J: I know just what you mean!
