B9. When my friend suggested we take part in the City half-marathon which takes place at once
B10. a year, I could thought it was a great idea. I have to admit I'm not that fit really — I don't do a lot
B11. of sport. But you see each marathons on television with thousands taking part so I thought
B12. I could manage it. After all, I wasn't out there to break any ones records! Of course, I had these
B13. great plans to train regularly and I went running after school with my friend for a few couple
B14. of evenings — but then school work have got in the way so I didn't really do much. The result is
B15. that I took part in the half-marathon last Saturday — but my legs which went to jelly after a few
B16. kilometres and I had to stop. It was a bit embarrassing — but I guess I'm just do not built for
B17. running long distances. I'll stick to exercises at home in the future! Lots exercising at home can be
B18. effective. By modifying my workouts itself and increasing the intensity, I'll make the most of it.
