Reading

MEET ZOE DARLING

Zoe Darling is 13. She can play the piano, the violin and the guitar. She takes music lessons at school, and one day she wants to be a professional musician. Dan Travis talks to her.

Zoe, what types of music do you like?

I enjoy all types of music: rock, rap, reggae, hip hop, jazz and classical, but one day I want to write music for movies. I love the music of Nino Rota, and I think Radiohead also wrote awesome music for movies.

Do the other members of your family like music?

Yes, they do. My parents are professional musicians. My mom is a famous singer. She sings with a jazz band, and my dad plays the saxophone in the same band. My sister plays the trumpet, but she doesn't like jazz. She prefers classical music, and her favorite musician is the classical trumpet player Alison Balsom.

Do you go to any music festivals?

Yes, I do. Of course, my parents perform at festivals all over the world, but never during summer vacation. That's when they take my sister and I to festivals in the UK and Europe. We go to a lot of concerts. For example, last weekend Dad and I went to hear Jan Garbarek.

Can you tell our readers something about Garbarek? Few young people know about him.

He's an awesome jazz musician, but he also plays New Age music. He's the greatest!
