LIVEWORKSHEETS

It's Emily's birthday and there's a costume party on Saturday. Matt's thinking about his costume. 'Mum, I want to be a superhero. But Harry wants to be a superhero and he's got a superhero costume.'

'Then what about a pirate costume?' his mum asks. 'You can make a short beard and a moustache with black paper and you've got a pirate hat!'

'No,' Matt says. 'I can't be a pirate. Dan and Zoe have got pirate costumes!'

At school the next day, everyone's talking about their costumes for the party. Emily's got a pop star costume. Julia's got a farmer costume. 'And I'm taking Ludo as a sheep!', she says. Ludo's her little white dog. Only Matt hasn't got a costume.

After school, Matt asks his mum for help. 'Go as a clown,' she says, but Matt says, 'No. A clown's silly. I want a great costume like Harry's or Dan's!' Then his mum has an idea!

It's the day of the party. Emily's wearing her pop star costume and she's singing. Everyone's listening to her, but who's this? The door opens and Matt comes in.

'Hello, everyone,' he says. 'Meet the superhero pirate clown!'

Emily stops singing. Everyone starts laughing because Matt's costume's so funny!

Matt smiles. 'Thank you, Mum,' he thinks. 'You're good at helping!'
