

Listen, choose True or False for each sentence, and correct if the sentence is wrong.

1. The shore was pounded by angry waves.
The waves was strong and high.

2. It was the afternoon, but the sky was as fast as night.

3. People on the coach were leaving their homes.

4. The roads were crowded with cars. Our car moved slowly down the wet road.

5. Later that day, we stopped at a hostel. Usually, people on vacation stayed there.

6. Many people were in the lobby of the hotel. They were caught by the storm. They had nowhere else to go.

7. Mom and I watched the news on TV. The weather forecaster talked about the storm.

8. She explained that soon it would be over. But some people were trapped. They were caught by the fast storm.