

1. What change in the narrator's life is described at the beginning of the passage, and how did it affect his thoughts about his previous school?
 - A) He moved to Eton and forgot about his previous school.
 - B) He transferred schools and became very studious.
 - C) He left Eton and returned to his previous school.
 - D) He made new friends at his old school.
2. What event prompted the narrator to invite his friends to a secret party?
 - A) A celebration of academic success.
 - B) A week of hard drinking.
 - C) A family gathering.
 - D) A farewell party before leaving Eton.
3. How does the narrator describe his encounter with the youth who called out his name?
 - A) He found it thrilling and exciting.
 - B) He was frightened and confused.
 - C) He felt a sense of familiarity and recognition.
 - D) He ignored the youth and returned to his party.
4. What does the narrator learn about his namesake, William Wilson, after their encounter?
 - A) He is a distant relative.
 - B) He had also attended Eton.
 - C) He left his previous school due to a family accident.
 - D) He was a famous scholar at Oxford.
5. How does the narrator reflect on his time at Oxford, and what does he attribute to his behavior there?
 - A) He considers it a time of personal growth and development.
 - B) He blames his parents' generosity for his wasteful pleasures.
 - C) He feels he has become a better gentleman.
 - D) He regrets not studying harder during his time at the university.