

Topics and subjects

5. Read the text: What's CBI?

Content-Based Instruction (CBI) is a method where students learn a language through meaningful topics like science or art. It combines all skills—reading, writing, speaking, and listening—into activities such as reading articles or discussing ideas. CBI motivates learners by focusing on real-world content and helps prepare them for academic or professional challenges.

Answer with yes or no:

- Does CBI focus on real-world topics?
- Is grammar the main focus of CBI?
- Can CBI include reading and listening activities?

Complete the sentences;

- CBI is useful because...
- A key feature of CBI is...
- Students can learn topics such as.

6. Write 5 sentences proposing how to learn different things.

example:

Students can read about their favorite artists and learn about adjectives and biographies.

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.

7. In pairs, describe the subject of your image and read your description in front of the group.